Forward

Slips of paper, literature in miniature, depict life by recording past accomplishments and promising future achievements.

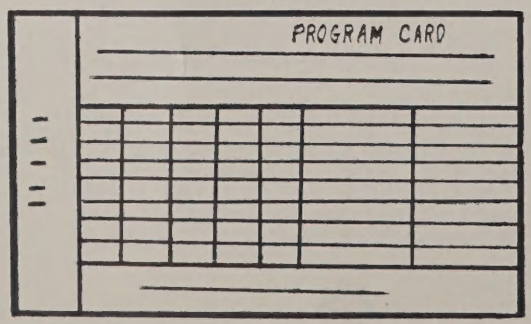

Lines and figures on a slip of paper become a steel suspension bridge, a skyscraper, or a humble but much-loved dwelling; a vote elects the President of the United States; notes convert to a law; fingerprints rescue the innocent and identify the unknown; a prescription changes to medicine that cures. Even the H-Power Age started on a piece of paper.

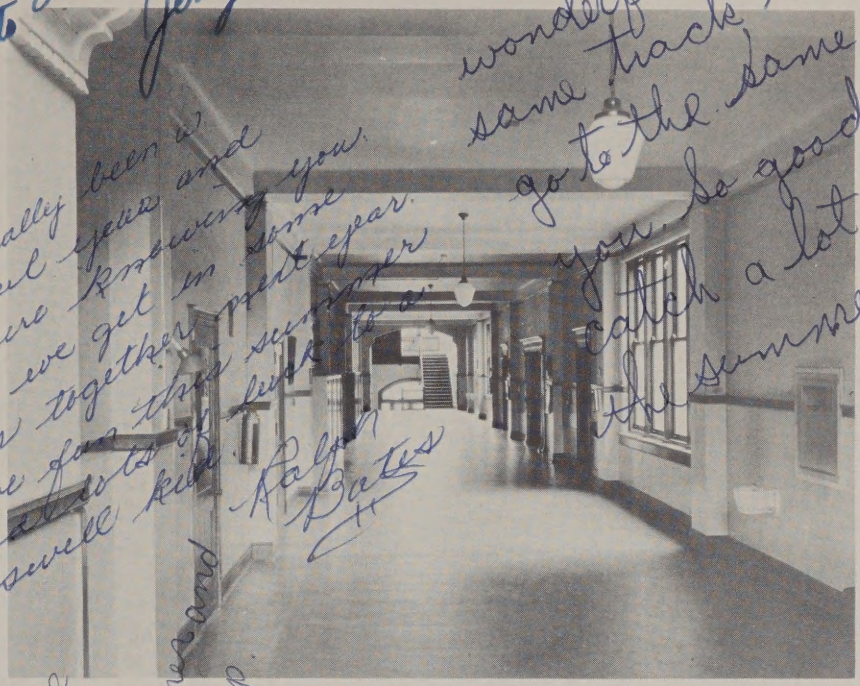

In all parts of China have been found ancient altars on which any scrap of written paper was burned in the memory of dragon-faced, four-eyed Ts'and Chien, who invented the Chinese alphabet probably from patterns in nature, such as the stars and the footprints of birds. These patterns became the first means by which the Chinese could put into permanent record that elusive thing called life.

As the theme for our 1958 BOOSTER, Slips of Paper stands as a symbol of each student's individual progress not only in his classes and organizations but also in his relationships with schoolmates and teachers throughout his school life. The unfilled slip gives a promise; the completed paper serves as a record; both show direction and goal.

Dedication

Olga B. Thiel

To Miss Olga Thiel we dedicate the 1958 Booster in appreciation of her great contributions to the Booster and to Central High School. Her optimistic philosophy and quiet concern have helped her students over many difficult spots to gain real pleasure in a job well done or in personal difficulties solved.

Central to Miss Thiel was not just a school nor a place to work; it was her school, and the growth of each person in it gave her deep satisfaction. Teachers and students alike looked to her for friendship and understanding.

Dedication

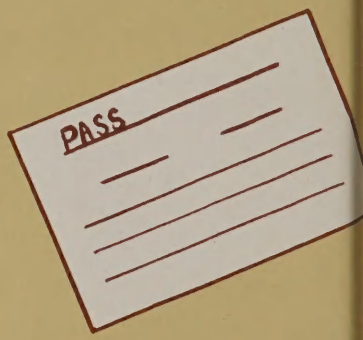

Anne L. Roche

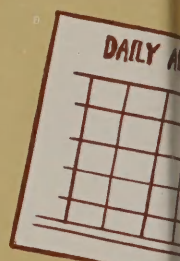

Many students in the past have helped to build Central. Among these Miss Ann Roche has a unique position. As a student she studied, attended games, and belonged to clubs; as an alumna she worked in the office; and as a teacher she instructed thousands of boys and girls in the skill of typing. Her friendliness and enthusiastic loyalty made her a valuable member of the faculty. In spite of being an extremely active person, she was never too busy to work for a good cause nor to help a friend.

Dave

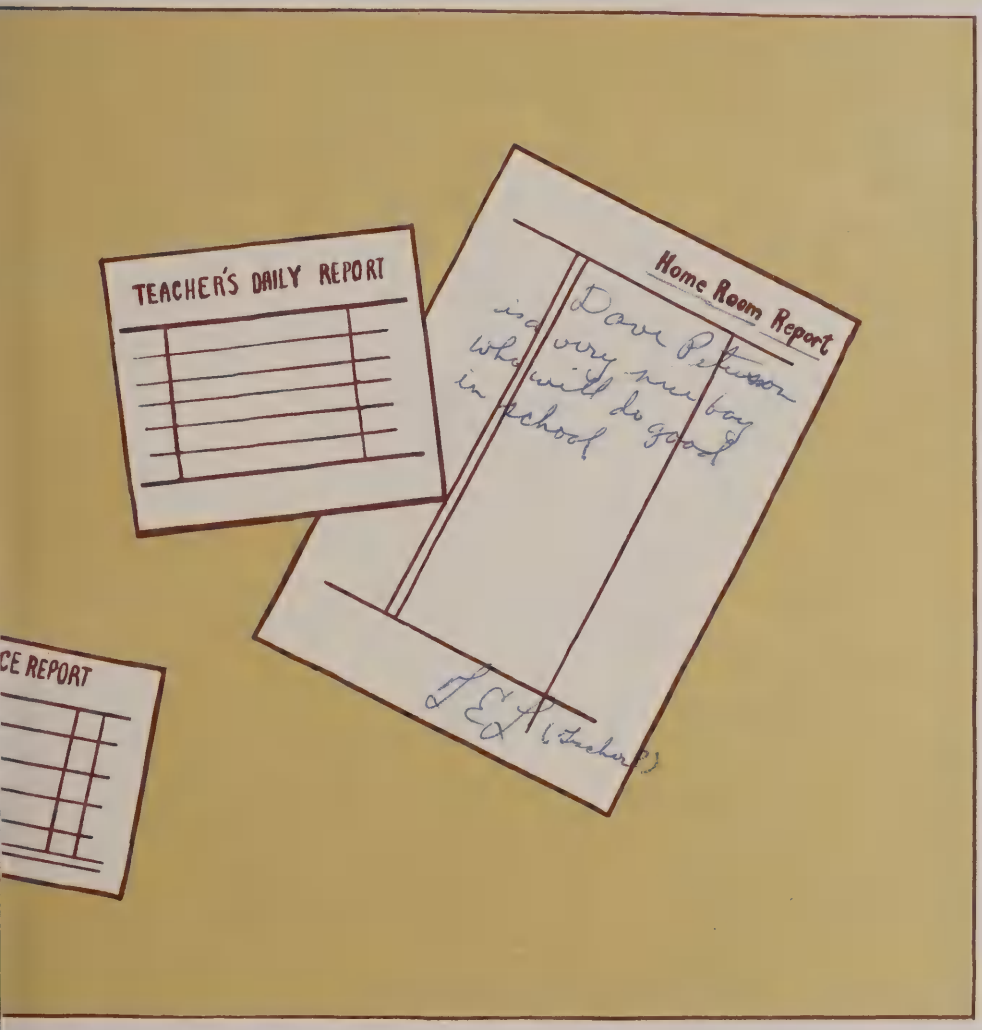

Faculty

Dave,
Here's hoping that as you slide down the bannister of life, you will get a few slivers of success in your career. Best Wishes to a real smart guy.

Yours Dittman

Hands Across the Ocean

In Cologne, Germany, Charles spent the summer at the home of the Max Schubert family.

This year the American Field Service again brought a foreign exchange student to Central. In return, Central sent a representative to Europe last summer.

The purpose of the American Field Service is to further international understanding by giving American teenagers the chance to become acquainted with life and people of another country through living with a family abroad. The A.F.S. began in 1950 when nine American youths spent the summer in France. By last summer the figure rose to 724 students visiting 19 different countries.

Coming all the way from Helsinki, Finland, May Holmberg arrived in La Crosse during August. She stayed at the Dr. John C. Harman home. May's father is a civil engineer. She fluently speaks Swedish and Finnish as well as English. After being a Centralite for a year, May will return to her homeland to finish her secondary education.

Representing Central was Charles Temp, who resided with the Max Schuberts in Cologne, Germany. Visiting a German school, he found that all the children spoke English. He toured the famous Cathedral of Cologne. With the four Schubert children, he visited Rotterdam, Netherlands. Charles found Cologne similar to La Crosse. His visit was shortened by appendicitis.

The John Harman residence on Hackberry Lane was May Holmberg's home during her year at Central.

Foreign exchange students, Charles Temp and May Holmberg, thoughtfully compare notes in preparation for the foreign exchange assembly.

Important highlights of the senior class are thoroughly discussed and voted upon in the Senior Executive Council. The class officers, elected by the members of the senior class, preside over all the meetings. Early in the fall one boy and one girl are selected as representatives from each of the 12 senior homerooms. The advisers, Miss Brye and Mr. Radtke, offer many helpful suggestions at the meetings held during homeroom periods in the cafeteria. Checking all the report cards to determine which seniors are eligible to receive senior privilege cards is only one of the many tasks for which the Council is responsible. Seniors who had deserving grades in their junior year earn first quarter privileges. Commencement speakers and baccalaureate speaker must also be selected. Collecting money for cap and gown rental and obtaining orders for graduation announcements are two duties of the council.

The treasurer collected a total of $1,773. Three hundred six caps and gowns were ordered at a cost of $1,377; of this amount $153 was used for printing senior pictures in the Booster. The 3,300 announcements ordered by the seniors totalled $396.

In Memoriam

Charles S. Van Auken

The death of Charles Van Auken in a fatal automobile crash on March 28th was a deep loss to every member of the Central student body.

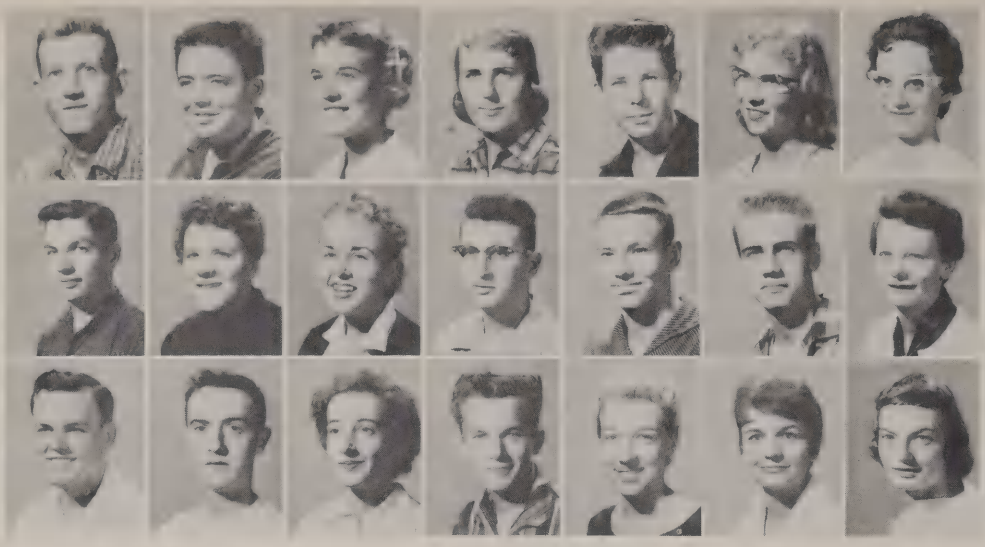

In addition to being a member of the L. C. Club, Chuck was very active in intramural sports. He was a member of both the baseball and football teams during all three of his years at Central. His fine athletic ability was shown when he was chosen co-captain of the 1958 football team.

Chuck's warm, friendly personality made him a favorite with his classmates. In his junior year, Chuck was elected Prom King.

Well-known and well-liked at Central, Charles Van Auken will long be remembered by everyone who was affiliated with him in any way.

Through the use of the Wheatstone Bridge, these seniors try to discover the unknown resistance in their study of electricity.

Students exhibiting outstanding achievement in scholastic and extra-curricular activities receive special recognition annually when the students are cited for Circle, Central's honor club. In the spring of 1957, fifty-five students fulfilled the requirements for a citation. Of these, ten seniors earned the honor for the third time, eighteen students for the second time, and twenty-eight for the first time. Following a banquet in May held to honor these students, the new members were initiated in a solemn ceremony. At the honor assembly later in the month, Miss Taras, one of the advisers for the organization, presented certificates to those cited. Miss Malchow and Mr. Wheelock serve with Miss Taras as advisers. To qualify for Circle a student must maintain grades of "B or better" in his regular subjects and obtain a specific number of points in extra-curricular activities. A senior must earn 36 points, a junior 30 points, and a sophomore 24 points, with the stipulation that all points cannot be earned in one field. Attendance records, character, and conduct also serve as a basis for considering a student for a citation.

Raising enough money to bring an American Field Service student to Central once again became the major project of the Student Council. To supplement donations from clubs, such projects as shoeshine days, an ugly contest, and noon movies were undertaken. In an effort to improve our relations with Logan and Aquinas, representatives were elected to the La Crosse Youth Council and exchange assemblies were arranged between the schools. Serving as a bridge between the students and the teachers, several Student Council representatives worked with a faculty committee to plan assemblies. In planning the Fall Festival the council members busied themselves arranging for the election of the queen and her court and getting trucks for use as floats. Other activities during the year included selling pep tags, beginning a Student Council file for the benefit of future councils, sponsoring buses to out-of-town athletic events, and rearranging the schedule for club meetings. The officers of this year's council were John Schilling, president; Tom Stroeh, vice-president; Carol Kneuppel, corresponding secretary; and Caroline Isler, recording secretary.

Back Row: P. Hemker, D. Walchak, J. Wheelock, Mark Seiler. Second Row: J. Wahlstrom, A. Esch, L. Hutchinson. Front Row: B. Melby, R. Fuller.

Working behind the scenes, the Social Committee initiated much of Central's social life. At weekly Wednesday noon meetings, three students chosen from each class planned with Adviser Miss Wiley such social events as the Twirp, Sock Hop, Masquerade, and Prom, designed to include every Centralite. Chairman Bonnie Melby and her group then proceeded to make posters, secure a band, and decorate for each occasion.

"Slips of Paper" was the chosen theme of this year's Booster Editorial Staff. Staff meetings conducted by editor Charles Temp in Room 101 on the first and third Tuesday of each month followed a regular pattern. Each of the nine sections heads gave their progress reports, and the editor presented and explained new assignments. The junior editor, Georgia De Dakis, served as secretary and made preparations to edit the 1959 Booster. After the staff meeting adjourned, members usually stayed for section meetings and additional work. The photography, one of the largest tasks, was undertaken at the beginning of the school year. Throughout the year, Vinje Dahl and Garet Van de Steeg appeared willingly at odd hours and unusual places to fill the varied requests of the staff, and they also guided the sophomore apprentice photographers. This year's staff was under the direction of Miss Vold, a new teacher at Central. As assistant adviser, Mrs. Tartagni was ready to substitute in case of Miss Vold's absence. Staff members did not have to sit idle or wait for help with the various problems that arose. Staff members were carefully chosen from a large group on the basis of their work displayed at the spring tryouts. Throughout the year, they toiled enthusiastically at their various duties with skill and artistry.

With the approval of Editor Charles Temp, Barb Smith painstakingly continues her job of cutting and pasting pictures so as to meet the mounters' deadline.

Fair Financiers

Persuading La Crosse businessmen to buy Central's Booster is the task which the seventeen girls of the Booster Business Staff set out to accomplish during the year. As an encouragement to obtain more than the quota of six orders per person, each girl earns a quarter with each additional sale. At the initial meeting in the fall, Mr. Evenson, the new adviser for the group, gave each girl a list of prospective patrons and a receipt book. Although the flu interfered with the usual schedule and the customary deadline of November had to be extended, senior Linda Schaldach, high saleswoman, collected 21 orders. Two seniors, Eleanore Engelke with 12 sales and Lois Perso with 11, and sophomore Jean Walstrom also with 11, followed her. The two other seniors, six juniors, and six sophomores comprising the rest of the staff brought the total to 136. This number plus the 790 sold to Booster Club members and 100 individual sales totaled 1125, a total which surpasses all previous sales records. After completing their sales the staff enjoyed a brief rest until the delivery of Boosters to patrons in May. At the beginning of the school term the business manager, Lois Perso, her assistant, Karen Longfellow, and other staff members selected the six sophomore girls who served with them. To be chosen a girl must possess qualifications which include persistence, ambition, and willingness to meet people.

Each issue of our school paper represents many long hours of work. No one knows it better than the members of the Hi Trib Editorial Staff. As student subscribers look forward to reading each edition, they scarcely realize the toil in the publication of their paper. Such duties as layout, assigning articles, and organizing various pages are parts of the job of these aspiring young journalists. An annual custom is the distribution of an edition on the first day of school. Ralph Kuether had the tremendous job of editing this bi-weekly paper. Editorials for the feature page were one of his many responsibilities. Associate editor to Ralph was Eleanore Engelke. An exclusive Hi Trib scoop is the D. A. R. winner. The feature page, which had a competent editor in Sharon McLaughlin, offers such articles as Letters-to-the-Editor and the popular Spotlight. In each issue the Spotlight features two deserving seniors, selected by their classmates this year by a poll. Heading the sports section was Laurie Brewer. This sports page featured articles by our Madison correspondent, Dennis Niebuhr. The Christmas and Valentine issues, printed on gay-colored paper, proved to be a pleasant surprise. Staff members who went to Madison for a workshop for student editors learned of ways to improve high school newspapers. The group is advised by Mr. Renslow.

A Nose for News

Various members of the staff must solve one of the many problems involved in the preparation of a forthcoming issue.

The chief responsibility of the High Trib Business Staff is to control the low cost and prompt delivery of Central's bi-weekly newspaper. This organization is comprised of three main departments, each of which has its specific duties. The Circulation Department counts the Rotos and High Tribs and prepares them for home room distribution. The selling branch of this department, under the management of Diane Peterson, sells the extra copies for ten cents apiece to non-members of the Booster Club. The second department, that of advertising, could be called the "backbone" of the staff. Through this department come the ads from the various business establishments advertising in our paper. The income from these ads pays more than one-half the cost of printing our High Tribs. Mary Kleven, Judi Cline, and Sally Lassig, the managers, divide among the members of the advertising department the work of selling ads, building up ad lines, and collecting bills. The mailers and typists, who comprise the third department, insure the wide distribution of the papers to former teachers and students of Central, the La Crosse Public Library, exchange schools, and individual subscribers. The mailing head is Anita Easland, while the head typist is Jane Markos. Under the watchful eye of Miss Herbert, who also handles the money and financial reports, the members of this organization are constantly at their "behind the scenes" work.

Judi, Jane, Diane, and Anita carefully recheck their lists to be sure that every subscriber receives his copy of the High Trib.

One day early this fall, a common sight in the Central halls was girls wearing bibs, unmatched shoes and hair nets, and carrying dolls under one arm. This humorous parade followed a more formal initiation, which included a stately candlelight ceremony. More than 70 new members joined the already large membership of Y-Teens. Under the guidance of Mrs. Dahler, this club, which is sponsored by the Y.W.C.A., is concerned chiefly with service to the school and the community. At one of the first meetings, the representative to the Y-Teen summer conference gave a brief program based on her experiences at camp. Among the many services performed by the group was the sorting and selling of Booster friendship pictures, a project entailing much time and work. A bake sale held at a downtown store proved to be a successful method of enriching the club treasury. A pleasant note was added to one of the meetings by Mrs. Till Lund, who as guest speaker demonstrated floral arrangements and gave corsages to five lucky girls whose names were drawn. As if by magic, Yuletide decorations, at the hands of Y-Teen members, brought a definite festive touch to the Central halls. Upon completion of this heart-warming task, the girls enjoyed a bowl of chili. The traditional "Hanging of the Greens" held at the Y.W.C.A. saw Sharon McLaughlin, Jolene Glenz and Linnea Hayek enacting the parts of white-clad cherubs. As usual, the annual bingo party attracted a large crowd. After the games, the girls indulged in a lunch provided by the refreshment committee. This consisted of cakes of all flavors brought in by various members of the club and 7-Up. A helpful and entertaining talk on grooming and etiquette was presented by a Y.W.C.A. Charm School Instructor. $1.00 from Y-Teen funds was contributed to the American Field Service fund for aid in bringing a foreign exchange student to Central in 1958-59. Duane Moore, well-known local music expert, gave an informative talk entitled "History of the Disc Jockey." The bi-monthly meeting of Inter Club enables the Central and Logan Y-Teens to discuss club problems, while it strengthens understanding and friendship between the two schools. A system innovated this year provides points according to the amount the girl has benefitted the club. Ample reward for high point winners was planned in the form of a bus trip to a Braves game at the end of the year. Calling the meetings to order was. Pres. Sharon McLaughlin. Other officers were V. Pres. Jolene Glenz, Sec. Judy Kinzie, and Treas. Sharon Espeland. Concluding the year were the election and installation of new officers for the following year's activities.

Endowed with the Yuletide spirit, these Y-Teeners dress up the halls with holly, candles, and gaily-painted Christmas scenes.

The Artistic Touch

Interest in art in any or all of its forms characterizes the Art Club members. The activities engaged in give each student ample opportunity to exercise this interest. Dancers at the Homecoming Dance found themselves enveloped in a football atmosphere created by the Art Club with a huge football throne and a backdrop of megaphones and goal posts. Skulls, bats, and dancing skeltons produced an eerie quality, which predominated at the Halloween party. Combining various types of paper, members created imitation stained glass windows as a background for the Christmas Concert. Making posters for other school activities provided another outlet for the creative bent of these students. Individual art projects in painting, drawing, and various types of craft work also made an appearance. Depending on the degree of contribution to the club's activities, members earned an artist's palette pin in bronze, silver, or gold. Presiding over the meetings held on alternate Wednesdays of the month were Judy Stockers, president; Carol Lunde, vice president; Sue Kallenbach, secretary; and Barbara Hein, treasurer. Miss Jacobson served as adviser.

Service With a Smile

The girls serving as Office Help are under the supervision of Pat Peart, Mr. Hanson's secretary. Their many and varied jobs include collecting and alphabetizing attendance slips, answering the telephone, delivering passes, filing notices and mail, and doing general office work. Each girl sacrifices study halls, and girls having senior privileges relinquish free periods. When the school term begins, these girls are selected on the basis of scholastic record, courtesy, friendliness, and personal appearance. Although there are many interruptions, such as visitors with requests or students looking for lost articles, these girls continue to keep the office and the entire school running efficiently. In December, when the holiday spirit prevails, office commotion and routine are forgotten as the girls decorate the office and exchange Christmas gifts.

The Trustworthy

To become a member of 212 honor study hall has been a privilege at Central for thirty-three years. After meeting the requirement of good citizenship and the approval of the faculty and 212 Council, applicants are admitted in mid-year. During the past three years, sophomores have been taken into 212 in September on the recommendation of their junior high teachers. Membership in 212 continues until graduation unless the rules are violated. The 212 honor study hall is governed by a body of juniors and seniors chosen because they show qualities of leadership and impartiality. These twenty honor councilors meet on alternate Thursdays at 12:30 with their adviser, Miss Wiley, to conduct the business of 212. Being impartial is at times hard for the council, but they are well rewarded by gaining valuable experience in leadership. The officers for the first semester were Pres. Bill Bantle, Vice-Pres. Dave Ellis, and Sec.-Treas. Abby Holley. Those elected in mid-year were Laurie Hutchinson, Larry Skaff, and Sue Golba.

Whenever a student has difficulty finding a book in the library, he always knows where to turn for help. Always on hand anxiously offering their services are two of the eighteen members of Library Round Table. Besides giving up at least two study halls a week, each student librarian by turns occupies the librarian's desk before and after school for the convenience of all. While on duty in the library, the workers often find spare time for studying between such tasks as checking books in or out, transferring attendance slips to correct study halls, shelving books, and shelf-reading. The bi-monthly meetings are held on the second and fourth Wednesday. Miss Swenson, adviser, and the president, Linda Hilleshiem, are always on hand on these occasions, generally supervising the business and pleasure provided. The first of these meetings is devoted entirely to business, while the second is social and usually includes a tasty lunch. Elaborating considerably on the usual social meetings, the annual Christmas party included a scavenger hunt and an exchanging of gifts. The organization deviated somewhat from its usual duties by sponsoring a candy sale and holding a tea for the faculty in the spring. Officers in addition to the president were Kathleen Wolley, vice president, Karen Hoel, secretary-treasurer.

From the Stage Wings

Top to Bottom: J. Rooks, R. Kuether, T. Wuest, D. Neuverth, C. Netwal, T. Baier, Raymond Olson.

Whenever any auditorium or stage equipment needs repair or a new piece of equipment is wanted, the call is sent out for a member of Stage Crew. Working under the guidance of Mr. Renslow and in conjunction with Art Club, they build scenery to highlight the Masquer-Harlequin presentations and music concerts. The group meets nearly every evening after school to carry out their plans and regular work. Every assembly means more of this regular work in arranging staging and controlling the lighting and sound systems. As an additional project this year, they completed a motor-driven color wheel which was given its first public showing at the concert, "Rhapsody in Color." John Rooks, student manager of the organization, and Terry Baier joined in designing and building this device, which spread its multi-color light patterns across the stage during portions of the concert. They also replaced the anchors for the overhead equipment of the stage. Tryouts for new members start early in the year and continue until each has satisfactorily demonstrated his desire and ability to work as a member of Stage Crew, at which time he is accepted.

Don, John, Clarence and Ray relax, even as they adjust the lights and the audio system during the Junior Ex assembly.

Domestic Damsels

In its third year of operation the Home Economics Council gained a place as an established organization as it continued to coordinate the activities of the various home ec classes. The group, composed of two girls elected from each class, met on alternate Wednesday noons to formulate plans for interclass projects, help select furnishings for the remodeled department, plan exhibits for the display case, and arrange bulletin board displays in the classroom. Sponsoring the annual Christmas Tea for all Central girls and the "Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow" contest were the main projects for the first semester. A potluck luncheon, the council's only social event, initiated second semester work, which centered around the Spring Fashion Show. Mrs. Dahler, the group's adviser, and Pres. Mary Kleven, Vice Pres. Carolyn Gautsch, and Sec. Abby Holley guided the year's activities.

Spreading Sunshine

"We care when we share" is the slogan of the organization known as Junior Red Cross. Membership includes volunteers from each homeroom. Advised by Mrs. Britt, this group meets on the second and fourth Monday of each month. The robed choir gave an inspiring contribution by making a recording to be sent overseas in the International Music Program. Gifts were wrapped for the Salvation Army, and art classes made pictures for the International Art Program. The Christmas season also was a great inspiration. Christmas cards were collected and sent to a school in Canada. Caroling was another Christmas project. Officers for this year were Laurie Hutchinson, pres.; Sue Beranek, v. pres.; Ann Nustad, sec.; Karen Shoemaker, treas.; and Ron Yarolimek, hist.

Dramatic Diversion

A dramatic group for those interested mainly in the mechanics of the theater is Central Playhouse. Enterprising members this year attempted a few of their own productions, a project which gave stage experience to many of the group. A comical skit presented at the Sock Hop provided fun for all. On the educational side was a talk on the art of make-up given at one of the meetings. Pointers from this talk were put to use when a number of the members participated in the Variety Show. Consistent attendance is the only requirement for membership. Members were initiated in a dignified candlelight ceremony, followed by refreshments. The presiding officers wre Pres. Mylene Leren, V. Pres. Rita Zurn, and Sec. Sharon McLaughlin. Mrs. Shaettle is the faculty adviser.

Deliberate Deceivers

Masquer members listen intently as Marliss points out characteristics of a stage-setting.

Besides dramatic talent, a girl must show initiative and ambition in order to become a Masquer member. In October the experienced members coached interested girls on the short monologues that are the key to membership in the club. After the monologues were given, nine girls were carefully chosen. Also in October, many of the girls attended the La Crosse State College Dramatic Workshop, at which skills such as makeup, stage-setting, and costuming were demonstrated. December was busy for these industrious girls when they presented with Harlequins "Allen Incorporated," a one-act play, for an annual assembly. On one of their meetings, which usually take place on alternate Thursdays, the club had its traditional Christmas party with the alumni and the exchanging of small gifts at the home of its adviser, Miss Fremlin. After "Who Killed Aunt Caroline?", this year's three-act play, the losers of the ticket race between Masquers and Harlequins fed the victors at their yearly get-together. Those of the twenty-seven girls elected as officers for both semesters were Sally Lassig and Marliss Bendel, presidents; Francie Pamperin and Veronica Grenholm, vice-presidents; Sue Golba and Linda Schaldach, secretaries; Mary Mikelson and Eleanore Engelke, treasurers; and Patricia Witzke, historian.

Devotees of Drama

With their eye on the coveted membership in the boys' dramatic society, twenty-four students showed up to "face the music" before the old Harlequins members and their adviser, Miss Brye, at two try-out sessions. Double try-outs, a first in the club's history, resulted from this year's minor epidemic. New admissions brought the club's membership to its constitutional limit, thirty-five. Combining their energies for the Fall Festival, old members produced the 3rd place float, "We'll Behead Campion," bearing a realistic representation of a guillotine in action. Their first work this year in co-operation with their friendly rival, Masquers, produced the one-act play, "Allen Incorporated." At the Christmas party, new members who had not satisfactorily completed portions of their initiation procedure furnished refreshments for the old members. A plan to raise money, with Masquers, for the Foreign Exchange drive came to a screeching halt barely a week before the show-time when illness appeared in the casts. At two evening performances in late March, they again combined with Masquers to present the three-act play, "Who Killed Aunt Caroline?" Officers for the year were Presidents Dave Ellis and Vinje Dahl, Vice-Presidents Vinje Dahl and Bernard Lieder, Secretaries Richard Rozelle and Jeff Klund, and Treasurers Charles Temp and Jim Layland.

Not many of us are inclined to consider the quest for learning a great adventure or an interesting mystery, but this is the reason why members of Science Club attend their Wednesday meetings. Advised this year by Mr. Evenson, they heard special reports and organized field trips to many places in the area to see science in action. At the beginning of the year, meetings were held each week to give more time to special reports, but they later were changed to bi-weekly when the frequency of reports slowed. For the first report, Ted Stenzel discussed Einstein's special theory of relativity as it relates to motion and the velocity-caused changes of size. Because a field trip to the airport weather station during November prompted many questions, Mr. Hanson, who once worked as a meteorologist, explained the working of equipment and theory behind that science at a meeting in early January. Later field trips to the Rubber Mills, to the Heileman Brewery, and to the La Crosse Telephone Corporation furthered the knowledge of the club. Clarence Netwal, a "ham" radio operator, answered many of the questions which arose as a result of the trip to the telephone company. First semester officers were President John Rooks, Vice-President Clarence Netwal, Secretary-Treasurer Dick Rozelle, and Corresponding Secretary Dan Gollnick. At mid-year elections, Dan Gollnick was elected president, Clarence Netwal retained the vice-presidency, and Dennis Moser became secretary-treasurer.

Mathematical Radicals

Dan and Jim explain the proof of a tautology to other officers of Radicals.

Weird words such as tautology and the fantastic computations in Boolean Algebra are "Greek" to most of us, but not to members of Radicals. These and related items became familiar to them through their year-long study of logic. In choosing this field, they first eliminated individual reports on mathematics and then chose to study logic rather than the other possibility, calculus. Since in logic every item is either entirely true or false, the tautology, which is always true, is the only form which a mathematical law may take. The study began with the basic theorems and abstractions involved, and worked into the more specific and semi-practical portions of mathematical logic. As a direct outgrowth of this study, the float which the club produced for the Fall Festival proved mathematically that Central would be the victor. To supplement their study of theoretical mathematics with practical applications, the club, with its adviser, Miss Johnson, took a trip to the Dairyland Power generating station at Alma on April 7. Because this trip was taken at the expense of their host, funds accumulated for the purpose from the sale of ball-point pens were not used. Directing the club's activities at the Monday noon meetings during the first semester were President Dan Gollnick, Vice-President Dave Ellis, and Secretary-Treasurer Tom Stroeh. President Jim Layland, Vice-President Richard Wolfgram, and Secretary-Treasurer Rita Colby were the second semester officers.

Working together, the Debate A-team selects useful facts from all available information.

Following its organization the second week of school, the Central Debate Team began its concentrated study by probing into all possible sources for effective arguments to use in debating the question, "Resolved: That direct United States aid to individual countries should be limited to technical assistance and disaster relief." Early in November after two months of extensive search for information, the members were ready to attend the Eau Claire State College's pre-season discussion clinic. During nine tournaments the A-squad paced by Dave Ellis, Ruth Wells, Ann Esch, Nancy Bunge, and Peter Cline used the clinic suggestions in developing their own cases. When the A-squad and two B-squads began the season, their main objective for the year was to gain experience in debate rather than to win, because all except two were inexperienced. At the end of January after their series of meets was completed at the district tournament, all twelve debaters had achieved membership in the National Forensic League. All the membership certificates are displayed proudly by their coach, Mr. Voss, on his bulletin board. The A-squad finished this very productive if not too victorious year with an average of half the meets won and half lost.

Studio Flott

Aiming to promote better understanding of Germany and its people, German Club came into being in early fall. Open to all present and past German students, the meetings on alternate Tuesdays are conducted as much as possible in German. Two speakers from Germany, a Christmas party, and a visit with the Oberkirchen Children's Choir highlighted the year's activities. Miss Taras was adviser. Pres. Dick Rozelle, Vice Pres. Sharon Krause, first semester Sec. Judy Blum, second semester Sec. James Ashworth, and Treas. Sharon Kopischke directed the work of the club.

Artists by Light

Central's camera fans always appear at school activities. At bi-weekly Camera Club meetings in Room 18, they unite their interests under the direction of Mr. Oines. Starting early on the year's project, a La Crosse scrapbook, they organized a committee system to speed progress. To keep active until scrapbook pictures began arriving, members gave individual reports on various phases of photography to the club. Serving as officers for the year were president Ray Olson, secretary-treasurer Nancy Herried, and vice-presidents Marlin Schneider and Karla Paulson.

Versatile Vocalists

As the tenors and the basses of the choir intently watch their music, Mr. Aronson corrects their mistakes during a sectional.

"Gloria! In Excelsis Deo!" sang the Choir triumphantly as they introduced their Christmas Concert. These words from "Fanfare for Christmas Day" set the stage for the remaining appropriate Yuletide music. As the audience looked on, hushed, the Choir continued with selections such as Sateren's "A Great and Mighty Wonder" and the Bach Motet, "Jesu, Priceless Treasure." Practicing three periods a week and also during special noon sectionals, the seventy-eight choir members, directed by Mr. Aronson, worked hard to make the event a success. Using these same numbers, besides making a tape recording for a local radio broadcast and a record requested by the Junior Red Cross to send overseas, the group also provided entertainment for the school audience in an assembly. With the arrival of spring came new songs and plans. In their beautiful red velvet robes, the choir climaxed the year with a Spring Concert, assemblies at various junior high schools in the city, and an exchange assembly with Hopkins High School, located in a suburb of Minneapolis. Officers were Charles Temp, president, Jerry Every, vice president, and Pat Bendel, secretary.

"Have fun while you sing" was the practiced motto of the twenty-one enthusiastic members of the Swing Choir as they prepared music for several programs, including a Polio Benefit and also entertainment for several local church and civic groups. The bi-weekly third period rehearsals were often supplemented by Tuesday evening meetings at which Mr. Aronson, the director, perfected the chosen music. Adding its light touch to the Christmas Choir Concert, the Swing Choir sang a lively arrrangement of "Jingle Bells" and Irving Berlin's "White Christmas." Also in keeping with the Christmas spirit, the group went Christmas caroling, after which a party was held at the home of one of the members. Getting back to work again, the Swing Choir began practicing music for the Spring Concert. The girls, clad in black plaid skirts and white blouses, added much to the appearance of the group on this occasion. Songs rehearsed for this concert included a tongue twister, "The Woodchuck Song," and a novelty, "Square Dance." The members of the choir planned as their last performances of the year exchange assemblies at the two other local high schools.

Practicing Prodigies

Intent on promoting an interest in and an appreciation of music at Central, Nocturne members spent many meetings preparing for their March 19th assembly, at which soloists and groups presented classical, jazz, and popular selections to the student body. Eleven new members were accepted as a result of tryouts held in the auditorium on October 29th. Each person seeking membership was required to play a solo, which was judged by the Nocturne members, Miss Vold, and the group's advisers, Mr. Baker and Mr. Aronson. On the basis of a newly-devised one-hundred-point system, stage presence, technique, dynamics, and choice of selection determined the rating of the musicians. The successful candidates officially became members of the organization at an impressive candlelight ceremony, which was followed by refreshments. The traditional banquet was held on December 18th. To demonstrate their musical talent, members took turns in solos or ensembles at the conclusion of each meeting, held on the second and fourth Tuesday of every school month. The annual picnic held late in May at Houska Park, celebrated the end of the school year. Officers of Nocturne, elected the previous spring, were Frank Paudler, president; Tom Stroeh, vice - president; Abbie Hebberd, secretary; and Linda Mickschl, treasurer.

Melody Makers

An opportunity to sing for enjoyment as well as to acquire musical skills is afforded all interested boys by the Boys' Chorus. Under the direction of Mr. Aronson, the group meets during second period every Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday. With the possibility of advancement to Choir as an incentive, the twenty-two boys work hard during their practice session to become proficient vocalists. The boys' repertoire includes a wide variety of music, ranging from popular to semi-classical.

Whether singing for fun or striving for a position in choir, the members of the Girls' Chorus practiced diligently every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Under the direction of Mr. Aronson, the girls developed techniques such as correct breathing, good diction, proper intonation, and sight reading. These techniques enable the girls to advance in musical position while making music more fun. This year they earned the reward of participating in the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

Under the Baton

All eyes were on Mr. Baker and all instruments were raised and ready to play at his signal. As his hands came down, "Rhapsody in Color," the winter concert of the Concert Band, was under way. Soon the opening strains of "Chicago Tribune March" resounded throughout the auditorium. Continuing its portion of the program shared with the Swing Band, the band offered the difficult "Symphony in F Minor No. 4." This number, especially, demanded many sectionals in addition to the regular daily first period rehearsals. In the repertoire variation was provided by "Vincent Youman's Fantasy," which featured two vocalists accompanied by the band. Completing the concert was the traditional "Stars and Stripes Forever March." The eighty-six members were chosen through try-outs held in November. Following the winter concert, the band put away its old music and began work on music to be prepared for the spring concert. Georgia De Dakis, secretary, wrote to various out-of-town schools and planned a trip for the spring. Officers in addition to secretary were Steve Mueller, president, Dan Gollnick, vice president, and Veronica Grenholm, treasurer.

In Orchestralia

The daily sixth period rehearsals were always anticipated with joy by the fifty members of the Orchestra as they began to prepare for their Spring Concert. Mr. Baker, the director, commonly called "Bake" by all, supervised these practices and often found it necessary to call sectionals during the noon hour and after school, as well as to help individuals with troublesome pieces outside of the regular orchestra period. Each member spent considerable time practicing on his own in preparation for the dreaded try-outs, which determined a fair seating arrangement for all. Following the completion of try-outs, the Orchestra began to work in earnest on the difficult music. "Selections from Carmen" and the "Gypsy Overture" provided a tremendous challenge to most of the group. The group offered "Theme from Piano Concerto No. 2" and "Didon Overture" as further proof of their ability. Accompanied by the Orchestra, Sig Midelfort played a cello solo "Elegy," which was a variation from the other music. The work of the Orchestra did not end with the spring concert. Adding the color of their music to the beauty of the graduation ceremony, the group played the customary "Pomp and Circumstance" as a processional and recessional.

Sharp Steppers

Moving quickly to the brisk cadence of the percussion section, the Marching Band had a busy season. Under Mr. Baker's direction, the ninety instrumentalists precisely executed three half-time shows. With symbolic formations and appropriate music, the first show illustrated the good neighbor relationship between North and South America. The second saluted the fighting Navy. Playing familiar sea songs, the band went through five nautical formations and concluded with the traditional crown for the Fall Festival queen. The last show, entitled "Woman's Work is Never Done," was a change from the usual custom of lauding fathers at football games. Not to be satisfied with performing only at football games, the band also participated in the La Crescent Apple Festival parade and the Wisconsin State College Homecoming parade, winning first place at La Crescent.

Manipulating the tiny figures on the board, Mr. Baker and Dan plan formations for the Marching Band.

Serving as good - will ambassadors for Central High School throughout the city are the nineteen members of the Swing Band, musicians selected from the Concert Band and the Orchestra on the basis of their ability and their willingness to improve. Getting together at least one night a week for a practice session, the Swing Band members worked hard to master the difficult pieces they played. In cooperation with the Recreation Department, the group played for eleven Swing Shanty dances. Other dances at which they performed were the Halloween dance, the Alumni dance and a mixer at Lincoln Junior High School. In conjunction with other musical organizations at Central, the swingsters participated in two concerts during the year, one with the Swing Choir and the other with the Concert Band. The group also entertained at the University of Wisconsin Alumni banquet and presented assemblies at Central, Longfellow Junior High School and Aquinas High School. As a climax to its season, the Swing Band put on its annual Variety Show in April. The money earned from this program was used to add new music to its already large repertoire.

As the Swing Band plays its theme, "Dream," another Swing Shanty dance ends.

For Pep Purposes

Diligent practice, dependability, and talent are the requirements that must be met in order to become a member of Central High School's Pep Band. The personnel of this group is chosen very carefully from the concert band by Mr. Baker, the director. When these forty devoted musicians played for the pep assemblies, they provided an extra spark which boosted the spirit of our football and basketball teams and also that of the student body. Not only did they put on an excellent half-time show at each of the nine home basketball games, but throughout the rest of the game they played the pep song, "Anchors Aweigh," and many more marches. In their practices, which usually took place during the noon hours and after school, they perfected such pieces as "Trumpet Boogie," "Semper Fidelis," "To Look Sharp," and "National Emblem." At the end of the year all of their hard work is rewarded when they receive the additional points which go toward a band letter. Another award comes from the fun they have while working together. The initiative and ability of this group have made it a pep band of which Central High School is very proud.

The members of Pep Band blend their voices with the rest of the cheering students during one of the pep assemblies.

Raiderettes

If flashing batons, colorful costumes, and original routines catch your eye, you probably are witnessing another of the Central Raiderettes' accomplishments. They have displayed skill leading the band on the football field during half-time and marching in such events as the College Homecoming, the Apple Festival at La Crescent, Minnesota, and services at the close of the year on Memorial Day. Originality was the keynote in the five half-time basketball shows in which they appeared. These accomplishments did not come to the seven girls without the assistance of their adviser, Mr. Baker, and their manager, or without diligent practice.

Pep Promoters

"We're going to back our team until we win this game." And back them they did! Six A-team Cheerleaders and four B-team members were seen at all home football or basketball games. The familiar whirling black skirts and flashy red sweaters were seen even at many of our out-of-town games. Under the able direction of Mrs. Nelson, practice is held every Thursday noon. 1958 saw many new cheers. Among the favorites are "Big Chief Wahoo" and "Extra, Extra." Organization of pre-game pepfests was also left to these spirited gals. As guests of and hostesses to cheerleaders of rival schools, they strengthened our friendship with these other schools.

Dave:

I didn't see to much of any of us sophomores in track this year. I don't think "Benny" expected much of us anyway. I think you should stick to that 440 because it is the "key" to all other events. I hope you work on it this summer & there's nothing I'd like to see better than a fellow like you be terrific

Gridiron Grapplers

Central placed Jim Woods, Wendell Yaske, and Bill Bantle on the All-City team. The same three players were also named to the All-Conference second team.

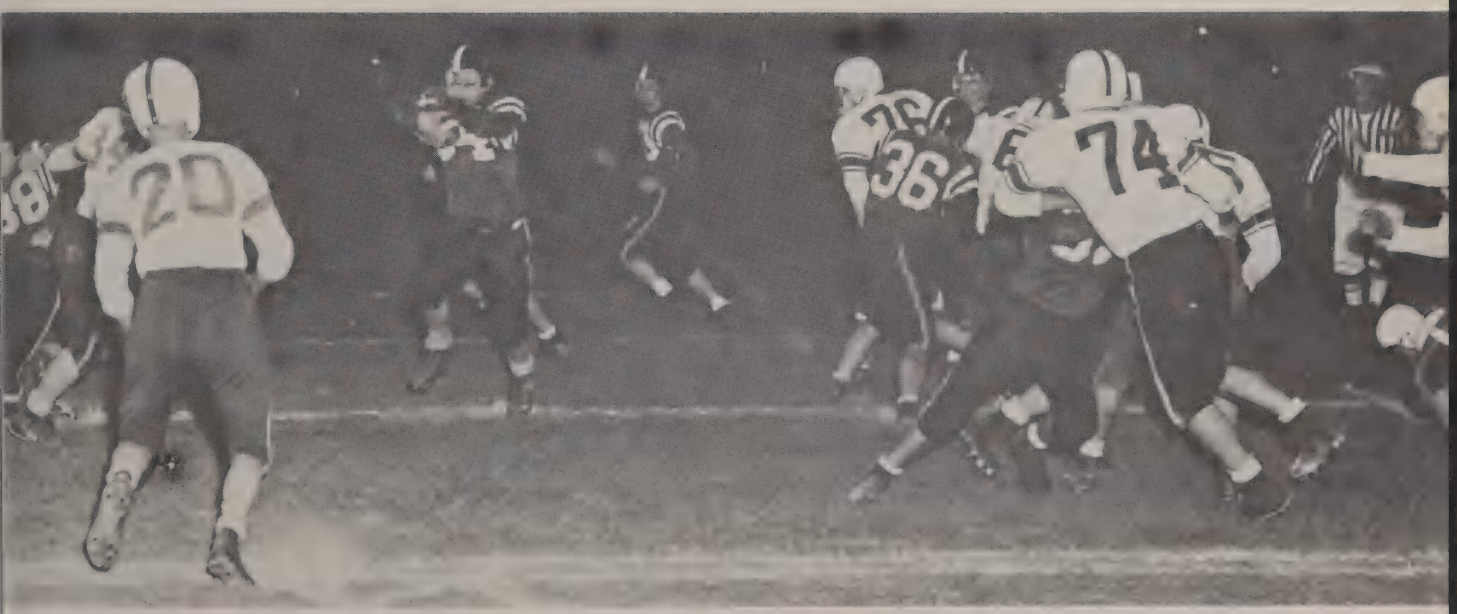

With an outstretched arm to break his fall, Fred Bahr gains yardage through the Menominee line.

Under the guidance of their new coach, Darold (Dud) King, the Red Raiders Football team opened the 1957 season in style by belting Stevens Point 20-6. The Black and Red, sporting new uniforms, piled up 298 yards on the ground as Dave Halmrast and Larry Skaff led the way by scoring one and two touchdowns, respectively. Jim Woods kicked two of his season's total of seven extra points. Although Central won, the victory was marred by a serious kidney injury suffered by Laurie Brewer. Defensively Charles Kline and Wendell Yeske gave the opposition trouble. The Raiders' next game was a futile bid for a Big Rivers win against Eau Claire. Fred Bahr's 45 yard pass to Jerry McKeever set up a touchdown that put the team ahead 7-6, but their hopes were crushed in the last two minutes of the game when the Old Abes scored a winning touchdown. The following week Menominee gobbled up three of Central's fumbles to set the Raiders back 13-0 in an afternoon game. The Red and Blacks topped the Maroons in yardage, but most of the ground gained was between the twenty yard stripes. Marinette dealt our team its third loss of the season. In an intra-city game with Aquinas, next on the gridders' schedule, Bill Bantle carried the mail for 102 yards to score two touchdowns, but the Blugolds' speed left Central behind by a 26-12 score. Having tasted defeat once too often, the Red and Blacks now gathered their forces in a winning bid against Campion. In the first half, Fred Bahr, from his quarterback position, scored two of his three touchdowns as Jim Woods added one of his four placement kicks. Bahr took to the air as the third quarter opened and maneuvered the team to the 47 yard line before Larry Skaff raced 53 yards through the Campion defense for a touchdown. This was closely followed by a scoring pass interception by Jim Woods. The Raiders' defense held the Campion team to 28 points, compared with their own 34. The up and coming Raider squad was weakened considerably when injuries sidelined several players and the flu bug hit the majority of the team. The Wausau game was rescheduled but too soon for Central to regain its forces, for it suffered a 39-0 defeat at the hands of the Lumberjacks. Larry Skaff's efforts in the last game of the season against Logan were to no avail, for the Rangers slipped by our Raiders for a 6-0 win. Skaff carried the mail for 124 yards behind Red and Black blocking, but Central eleven could only get as close as 16 yards from the Logan goal. Even with the loss of both intra-city games, the Raiders placed Bill Bantle, Wendell Yeske, and Jim Woods on the All-City Team.

Tacklers try to close in on Bantle as he picks up yardage behind Raider blocking.

The Up and Coming

The Junior Varsity under the coaching of Mr. Wildt and Mr. Nutter came up with a winning Football B-Team once again. The Junior Raiders ended its five game schedule with a three and two record. In Central's initial game they were downed by the Eau Claire squad 13 to 7. The gridders then went on to win the next three successive games. They outscored Campion by a 34 to 0 count and also toppled Winona and Aquinas. Destined to defeat once more, the Red Raiders were then stopped by Wausau 34 to 7. Doug Konop and Warren Tyson provided a strong running attack, while Arden Ross hit ends Clar Brodt and Dan Kinney for good yardage in the air.

The Basketball B-Team closed the season's 17 game schedule with a 9 and 8 record. In their first game they were downed by the West Salem Varsity 60 to 43. The Junior Varsity then came up against a tough Eau Claire squad and were defeated in a tight 61 to 56 battle. With the aid of several sophomores, the Mitchellmen came back strong to beat Wausau 37 to 30. After dropping a close encounter with Logan, the Red Raiders took Aquinas twice, with scores of 51 to 34 and 46 to 45. With a vast improvement in teamwork, the Raider outscored Eau Claire Regis 45 to 40. Mr. Mitchell again coached the team, with Mr. Peterson serving as his assistant.

A jump shot by Dick Papenfuss scores two points against our intra-city foes.

The 1958 Basketball team lacked offensive punch but made up for it defensively. The Red and Black started the season with only one returning letterman but overcame this disadvantage and won 9 of their 21 games. The season opened against Wauwatosa in a low-scoring game which showed lack of experience on the part of both clubs. Jim Ford pumped in 11 points, but the Raiders still bowed out 44-36. The Red and Black took it on the chin when Wisconsin Rapids belted the team 69-52. Two defeats were all the team could take. Dick Papenfuss, John Holt, and Clar Brodt all dumped in 10 points to lead the Raiders to a 52-41 victory over Madison West. John Hutchins used his height in the game to lead the teams in rebounding. The Eau Claire Old Abes squeaked past our hoopsters 56-51 before the team could down Baraboo 52-48. John Holt led the team again by scoring 27 points in the two games. The Raiders' strong rebounding kept them ahead of Viroqua so that they evened their record at three wins in six games. The Red and Black were beaten in their next two conference starts by Wausau and Menominee. Clar Brodt went into the Marinette game as the leading scorer. A 40-39 overtime victory over the Maroons broke the conference losing streak of five games. Papenfuss dumped in 15 points, but Holt's two free throws in the last twenty seconds clinched the win. Aquinas edged by our team 51-48 in our first intra-city encounter. 2800 fans watched Brodt sink 18 points in the nip and tuck game, which was tied eight times throughout the four quarters of play. Losses were suffered at the hands of Menominee and Marinette in out-of-town games before the Red and Black downed Logan 40-38 in a rough and tumble game. Central's height played a big part in the game that threw the city title race into a three-way tie. Papenfuss led the winners with 18 points. Wausau edged by the Raiders for the second time this season as Ken Peterson's 12 points weren't quite enough for the bucketmen to win. Holt and Brodt led the Klossmen to victory over Aquinas in a 60-57 overtime game. Papenfuss came through with a rebound bucket in the last 38 seconds to put the Red and Black ahead. The Raiders held the lead in the city race until Logan squeaked by the Centralites 47-44. Four points in the last 30 seconds of the second overtime earned the victory for the Rangers. By showing their form, the hoopsters nearly defeated Eau Claire, a highly ranked team in the state. They gained revenge a week later by downing Eau Claire Regis 50-49. John Hutchins produced the high individual total of the season as he sank 23 points. His last winning bucket came when the Raiders trailed by one point with 20 seconds remaining to be played. Viroqua fell behind the Red and Black for the second time this season before meeting them in the first regional tournament game. Viroqua was the victim of John Holt's 22 point production as the team began their bid for a state tournament berth. Central had a seven point lead at half time but fell behind by ten points with one minute remaining in the Logan game the following night. Brodt, Peterson, and Fred Bahr dumped in 8 points to come within two of the Rangers' 69 points as Central was eliminated from tournament play. Papenfuss finished the season with 237 points, while Brodt and Holt followed close behind with 225 and 214 points, respectively. While Holt and Papenfuss made nearly 70 per cent of their free throws, Brodt and Hutchins dumped in 50 per cent of their shots from the field. Hutchins and Papenfuss were named to the All-City first team. Brodt was placed on the second team.

Cinder Specialists

The 1957 Track team started the season in style by coming out on top of a field of seven at the Wisconsin Rapids Indoor Meet. The Raiders then traveled to the Madison West Indoor Meet, where they placed fifth in a field of 23 teams. Eight wins out of their last nine meets were the highlight of the cindermen's season. The team won 11 events in their first meet as they overwhelmed Tomah 94-24. Allen Gutzel and Topper Van Koten copped two firsts apiece. Gutzel duplicated this feat against Richland Center the following week. The Red Raiders broke the high jump and shuttle hurdle relay records by taking a first at the Comet Relays. Ron Heins established a 5' 11" high jump record, while Jerry Kulcinski, Gary Molzahn, Gutzel, and Heins ran the hurdles in 48.1. The 34th consecutive dual meet win was obtained at the expense of Eau Claire Regis. Laurie Brewer, Bill Bantle, Dave Halmrast, and Dave Schini broke the half mile relay record at the Wausau Invitational Meet as they sped the distance in 1:35.7. Van Koten, Brewer, and Jim Abbey all made broad jumps over 20 feet in the Campion Dual Meet. They were the only three in the state and three of the few in the nation to accomplish this feat in one meet. The Red and Black, in their usual winning style, captured their sixth straight win of the Peacock Relays. The win was clinched as Kent Quisel, Bantle, Schini, and Brewer broke a five-year-old record in the mile relay as they raced out a time of 3:34.6. The first running of the Big Rivers Conference Meet was won by our hustling trackmen. The team's closest competitor was Wausau, whom they edged out a week later by 53½53 in the State Sectional. At the State Track Meet Mr. Hanson concluded 14 years of successful coaching.

Mr. Wildt, coach of the Red Raider Baseball Team, had a difficult time getting a baseball squad together in the early stages of the 1957 season. Only three lettermen returned from last year's team. Cold weather prevented the sluggers from working out as early as usual. Although Central had tough sledding in its first encounter with Winona and got beat 15 to 5, the Wildtmen bounded back quickly and stopped Sparta 4 to 0 behind the one-hit pitching of Roger Kjos. The Red and Black were then downed by Campion, Eau Claire and Aquinas as a result of inconsistent hitting. Led by pitcher Dick Papenfuss, Central took Logan 5 to 0 only to get beat by the Aquinas "Blugolds" 4 to 2. By dumping Sparta 5 to 3 the Red Raiders ended the season with a record of 3 wins and 5 losses.

Although the enthusiasm was there, Mr. Kloss's Golf Team couldn't find the range and finished the season with one win in eight matches. The team started the season in style by defeating Winona but were hampered by bad weather as they dropped their next seven starts. Ron Ping and Jim Ford turned in the low scores of the season, but the low-shooting freshman, Bob Johns, was close at their heels throughout the season. Ford won four of his matches, while Ping and Larry Seitz won three. The schedule included three matches with Logan, three with Aquinas, and two each with Winona and Eau Claire. A match with Winona and one with Eau Claire were cancelled because of rain. Ping, Ford, Seitz, Leigh Iverson, Harvey Shiller, and Bob Oien were awarded letters for their efforts.

The Tennis Team, under the direction of Mr. Voss, completed the 1957 season with a record of six wins and two defeats. All six of the Raider's racquetmen won their matches as Winona bowed to the Red and Black 9-0. With Bill Papenfuss leading the field against Eau Claire, a week later the team scored a 4-2 win against the Old Abes. Eau Claire and Winona were victims once again later in the season. The team then launched an attack against their city rival, Aquinas. The Raiders came home with three more scalps under their belt before risking their undefeated record by playing Logan. The Rangers edged by our netmen in handing them their only two defeats of the season. LC's were earned by Bill Papenfuss, Dick Hays, Dennis Kennedy, Dean Marin, Jack Madgett, and George Wright.

Fun For Everyone

The Intramural Football League under the guidance of Mr. Johnson went through another successful season. John Holt and his Clinecats took first place by winning 8 and losing none. The games were played at Hixon Field after school. Other teammates included Dick Papenfuss, Ron Bakkum, Paul Hanifl, Glen Kuschel and Tom Zimmer.

The Moscow Five swept a 13 game schedule without a defeat and took an undisputed first place in the Swing Shanty Basketball League. Led by captain Paul Hanifl, the team outscored its opponents by nearly 40 points in each tussle. Mr. Sutton directed the games played on Tuesday and Thursday nights at Central.

L. C. Club

The group of Central athletes parading through our halls clad in formal or informal letter sweaters are the proud members of Central's L C Club. The club, which has been active since its organization in 1925, participates in civic duties for the school. It has been traditional for the lettermen to serve as Honor Guard in the ceremonies observing Memorial Day. The L C members also hand out programs and serve as ushers at football and basketball games throughout the year. Members of the club once again took part in the annual Teens Against Polio Drive, which was a great success. In order to be a member of the club, an athlete has to earn a letter in one of three major or minor sports and has to show a good attendance record. In the past year, L C winners totaled 45, of which 39 were regular members. The honor of winning the most letters went to Bill Bantle, who accumulated five monograms in three years at Central. This year Charles Kline headed the organization as president, with Fred Bahr as vice-president and Dave Colby as secretary. Mr. Ford became adviser of the club in place of Mr. Hanson, who is now our principal.

Active Lassies

The G.A.A., comprised of 115 members, has become the largest club for girls at Central. The club's sports-minded girls occupy Hixon gym or field or pool every Wednesday afternoon at 3:30. The school year is divided into five seven-week seasons alloting one season each for the four major sports: speedball, volleyball, basketball, and softball. The fifth season simultaneously features badminton, swimming, ping-pong, and shuffleboard. The first week of each season is devoted to a practice session in preparation for the six week Round Robin tournament. Officers are elected and awards are given at a business meeting in the spring. For attending four meetings of each sport, a member earns 500 points, and a red and black letter C is awarded. A gold bar represents 1000 points; a silver bar symbolizes 1500 points. President F. Pamperin, Vice President S. Lassig, Secretary - Treasurer A. Holley, and Adviser Mrs. Bradford conducted the activities of the year.

As February winds whistled, enthusiastic members of G. A. A. participated in Basketball, the winter sport. Because of the large turnout, a double Round Robin tournament was held with four of the eight teams playing every other Wednesday night. The teams, captained by sophomores Lois Dahlby, Sharon Espeland, Roxy Fuller, Nancy Riester, Jeanine Seils, Judy Temp, and Linda Vaaler, vied for the championship. Lois Dahlby's team captured the coveted honor with three wins and one tie. Three teams were deadlocked at second place with three wins and one loss. Mrs. Bradford, Sara Bradford, and volunteers refereed all of the games.

April and May found eighty-four girls on Hixon Field playing the ever-popular game of Softball. Because of the large turnout, the girls were divided into six teams and the field into three diamonds. This made it possible for all teams to compete each week. Robust cheers and excitement often brought a sidewalk audience. Volunteer umpires settled any arguments, and good sportsmanship prevailed. Boundless determination ran high throughout, especially the last week when heavy rains shortened the games by almost four innings. Those "on deck" gave encouraging pep talks to their teammates, since the outcome of the tournament remained undecided until the downpour. Marilyn Dahlby's team won the coveted championship with a perfect record of five wins. Teams captained by Anita Easland, Marie Helke, and Mary MacAuley tied for second with three wins and two losses. Nancy Neisen, manager, organized the tournament and appointed girls to help carry bases, balls, and bats.

An exciting championship game ended the Volleyball season. With a record of five wins and no losses, J. Glenz's team defeated F. Pamperin's to claim the coveted title. The always popular sport attracted 105 girls, each of whom contributed to the high enthusiasm which prevailed throughout the tournament. Captained by P. Wolf, J. Soules, J. Rogstad, J. Wilson, P. Bendel, and M. MacAulay, competing teams played each week in the four playing areas into which the gym was divided. Early arrivers helped set up the net, and volunteers served as referees and scorekeepers. A. Holley managed the sport.

Rain which tumulted from the skies prevented 110 G.A.A. girls from enjoying the first sport of the season, Speedball. During September and October only two tournament games could be played. Alternates from the teams encouraged their determined representatives. Hixon Field was divided into three separate playing areas which allowed all teams to play simultaneously. The participants formed six teams captained by juniors and seniors Sue Golba, Sue Beranek, Sharon Espeland, Roxy Fuller, Mary Kleven, and Sydney Mikelson. Sue Golba's team captured the tight race by winning both games. Four of the remaining five teams tied for second when each ended with a one win and one loss record. Volunteers refereed and took care of the equipment. Sherry Jones managed the sport.

Volunteers carry Speedball equipment outdoors to be assembled on Hixon field.

While Roxy watches her partner, Barb carefully strokes the ball.

The four Varied Sports activities brought out many enthusiastic G.A.A. members. Badminton captured most of the interest because it was the only sport run on an elimination tournament basis. Linda Schaldach and Sydney Mikelson defeated Roxy Fuller and Kaye Kjome in a closely-fought match. The victors won four out of four matches, while the second place team won three out of four contests. After the teams were defeated, many of them set up their own matches. Hixon Gym was divided into four courts. Barbara Smith was in charge of the tournament plans. Volunteers put up the badminton nets and set out the rackets and birdies.

Shuffleboard and ping-pong games were organized in the balcony. The sound of wood hitting wood as the result of a well-aimed thrust brought either joy or frustration to enthusiastic shuffleboard players. Betty Walkup supervised these two sports.

In the pool, energetic swimmers participated in water basketball and "keep-away," while others used fins, balls, paddle boards, or the diving board. The pool activity was directed by Lois Perso.

Methodical Mermaids

The last three Mondays of every month, twenty-three enthusiastic and experienced swimmers quickly jump into the swimming pool. This is the beginning of a typical Dolphins meeting. Requirements for the tryouts are extremely high. Necessary skills are based on the ability to do four major strokes; to perform a front dive, a back dive, and a racing dive in good form; to float; and to tread water. Each person trying out is graded on a point system by present Dolphins members. Gracefulness and form are the two main qualities under consideration. After tryouts this fall, successful contestants were required on initiation day to wear a sign saying "I am a Mermaid." The main project for the group is to earn the advanced swimmer's certificate, which includes a life-saving award. For those who have already acquired this certificate, water ballet is available under the direction of Mrs. Nelson. Water ballet, or swimming to music, requires much grace and precision. Mrs. Bradford is in charge of the general swimmers' group. After a member has earned the advanced swimmer's certificate she receives a green and black "D" symbolizing Dolphins. Every once in a while a "free swim" allows members to use the flippers and balls; to play water basketball, which resembles the court game; or to practice difficult or troublesome strokes. Officers for this year were President Caroline Gautsch, Vice-President Babs Shely, and Secretary-Treasurer Penny Wolf.

Interpreters Through Dance

Orchesis, a group of dance enthusiasts, has become an active club in its second year of revived existence. At the first meeting members planned the year's activities and listened to a reading of their constitution, which states the purposes of the club as being "to develop coordination, general flexibility, balance, range, and strength, and to develop a knowledge of and appreciation for the fundamentals of music as they relate to the dance." The members meet every Tuesday for an hour. Ten minutes were set aside for business each week, and in the remainder of the time dancing prevailed. Four practice sessions at the beginning of the year enabled aspirants to learn and rehearse required skills. At the tryouts held on two days in the fall, each prospective member was judged on nine fundamental skills in addition to a dance routine which she originated and presented. Twenty girls passed the tests, this being the limit of the club's membership. Because of the small number admitted, enthusiasm and eagerness were characteristic of those trying out. Extra rehearsals were often called in preparation for an appearance in the winter band concert. Impersonating hobos, the girls danced with band accompaniment to "Sentimental Journey" and, dressed in old blue jeans and sloppy shirts, to "Seventeen." At an assembly program in the spring, the dancers did their interpretation of the "Banana Boat Song" and "Dry Bones." The officers, elected at the close of the last school year, conducted the activities of the organization. They are Abby Holley, pres.; Pat Bendel, vice-pres.; and Penney Wolf, sec.-treas. Mrs. Nelson is the adviser for Orchesis.

A completely modernized department greeted home ec students this fall. Newly-tiled floors and painted walls make a lovely background for built-in cupboards and drawers, a closet, a wardrobe, and a fitting room. The drawers slide out of the cupboards and into slots in the study tables. Of the five kitchens, all feature stainless steel sinks, formica counter tops, and breakfast sets, and three boast new electric ranges. The model kitchen includes even more modern facilities —a counter-top range, a built-in oven, a garbage disposal unit, a dishwasher, and an automatic laundry unit. A two-section sofa, a corner table, and a large, modern table lamp convert one part of the dining room into a "living corner."

Lynell and Darlene agree that cooking becomes a "dream" in the department's new "dream" kitchen.

Adhering to new rules, the Student Council election campaigners began their fights with a bang April 27 and continued with gusto to the last minute on election day, May 2. To avoid disputes, numbers were drawn for key positions of signs and for the order of assembly campaign speeches. The new rule that campaign expenses should come from the pockets of the candidates did not retard campaigning. It even encouraged some to go further, as John Schilling, the winner, proved by printing napkins for the cafeteria. The four other candidates were Charles Kline, Frank Paudler, Tom Stroeh, and Laurie Brewer. The enthusiam shown in making catchy slogans and preparing skits made the voting turnout the greatest in the history of Central.

Marlene and Carol welcome the opportunity to relax for a few moments in the home ec department's new "living corner."

Touring the school, prospective sophomores survey the mechanical drawing room where many of them will be attending classes in the fall.

The annual Orientation Day held on April 26th prepared the freshman class for their new life at Central. Gathering first in the auditorium, the group was entertained by the Swing Band and told about various aspects of life at Central. Following this, they were divided into small groups and taken by senior guides on a tour of the building. At the end of the tour the future Centralites received copies of the latest High Tribune.

Accelerated by an all-out drive started on January 13, the Foreign Exchange Fund again climbed well over the required amount. Donations from home-rooms and clubs proved to be the largest source within Central. Promotions like the Ugly Contest and the Faculty Basketball Game also provided money. During Shoe-Shine Days, volunteers donated polish and labor to help bring Centralites' shoes and the AFS fund to a healthy glow.

Dave Ellis watches Randy Cowley apply polish to his shoes in the campaign to raise more money for the Foreign Exchange Student Fund.

A vivid backdrop of silver and blue gave the Hixon Gym an atmosphere of "Almost Paradise" at the Junior Prom. A fountain spouting sparkling water enriched a beautiful garden in the middle of the dance floor. A golden crescent moon served as Queen Pat Bendel's throne as she received her floral crown from King Chuck Van Auken. Couples danced from nine to twelve, with music by the Starlighters. Highlighting the evening the grand march was led by the royal couple and their court, consisting of Abby Holley and Bill Bantle, Rachel Lebakken and John Schilling, Barb Smith and Tink Gilbertson, Judy Tanke and Rich Rozelle, Darlene Langhofer and Dean Yarolimek. The sweetbox, also trimmed in silver and blue, proved an enchanting place for thirsty dancers to enjoy a cup of punch served by members of the prom committee. This annual event left everyone memories of an evening that seemed "Almost Paradise."

Glittering stars and a huge crescent moon throne create a heavenly atmosphere for King Chuck and Queen Pat.

The photographers adjust the lighting so as to capture Dick Lambert's healthy smile and achieve the right effect.

Lining up in the auditorium during their free periods or homeroom, Centralites waited patiently to have their pictures taken. Taken in September, these photographs appear on the identification cards of all students and in the Booster as individual pictures of the sophomores and juniors. In the homerooms, prints in various sizes were made available to students who wanted them.

Surprises were again in store at the customary Sophomore Party when a group of "sophs" were called on to exhibit their talent and take part in numerous games. Providing the vocal exercises were the cheerleaders introducing various cheers. Dick Rozelle, with his terrific piano, and the Swing Band furnished the music for the dance which immediately followed these "icebreakers."

"On guard," shout four boys who are getting acquainted at the annual sophomore party.

The magazine campaign began with an assembly on November 13 and a $3500 quota to beat. Sales of $3844 easily topped the quota and became the second highest total in the campaign's history. The homeroom of the sales director, Mr. "Babe" Weigent, tallied sales of $383 to lead the 19 rooms which reached their quotas. Ray Wrobel led the three top $100 salemen by listing a $181 total. Karen Hoel was the high girl with $58. Twenty-seven students earned awards for sales of over $25.

The annual magazine campaign comes to its close as room captains bring in their final tallies.

Under a canopy of balloons and crepe paper, Centralites in gay costume dance to the music of the "Starlighters" at the masquerade.

HOMECOMING COURT
C. Fuller, C. Knueppel, B. Melby, A. Holley, J. Glenz, B. Bowman, K. Odbert.

To begin two days of complete enjoyment with Humorous Head Day, which opened the celebration of the Fall Festival, everyone wore a homemade hat. At a pep assembly the next day the introduction of Queen Abby Holley and her court was witnessed by the Central Student body, all of whom were decked in red and black in observance of Color Day. A parade headed by the band led the way to the game with Campion. The queen and court were presented again in all their glory during half-time and at a colorful dance following the game.

The Masquer-Harlequin one-act play, "Allen Incorporated," is the story of the conflict that arises in the Allen family when dominating Aunt Ethel offers Mr. Allen an opportunity to become a "successful" businessman. Satisfied with his postition as a school superintendent in a small town, he finds himself facing his ambitious family alone. When the family get a taste of the domineering aunt, however, the play ends with their finally uniting behind father.

Portraying Aunt Ethel in the play "Allen Incorporated," Chris practices her lines during one of the many rehearsals for this one-act play.

In the true tradition of Twirp season, the girls sign the guest list for themselves and their dates.

Arriving on November first, Twirp Season brought with it the annual vacation for boy's wallets. After the girls had selected the boys of their dreams, they proceeded to "snag 'em." Tags made by the girls and donned by the boys proclaimed to the world whom each had "snagged" on "tag 'em" day. Friday, "drag 'em" day, climaxed the week when the girls "dragged" their dates, complete with corsages ingeniously contrived of anything or almost nothing, to the Twirp Dance.

The ghosts and goblins have gone, leaving the Centralites dancing in their gaily-decorated gym.

Witches, ghosts, and goblins filled the halls of Central from seven until eleven on the evening of October 31st for the annual Halloween party. A movie in the auditorium provided thrills and chills for the bravest partygoers. Those wishing quieter entertainment played cards, checkers, Sorry, Monopoly, or other table games in Miss Vold's room. A desire for more strenuous entertainment attracted others to Rooms 152 and 155 to play ping pong or shuffleboard. At the door each guest received a ticket which could be exchanged in the cafeteria for a hot dog, a doughnut, and an ice cream bar donated to the hungry Centralites by the P.T.A. Student Council members took turns selling soft drinks for the Foreign Exchange Student Fund. The evening of fun came to a close with a dance in the gymnasium. The music was provided by the Swing Band.

Reluctantly students return to afternoon classes following a seemingly brief noon-hour break.

Important in the last - minute rush of graduation is the signing of Boosters.

When spring arrives, one thought dominates the minds of most Centralites. The time of year when the Boosters will be distributed is rapidly approaching. Each day with increased anticipation, students hurry to their homerooms hopefully to see if the yearbooks have arrived. Finally on the long-awaited day, the truck appears bearing the precious cargo. Transporting the Booster into the building proves to be no problem, as numerous willing hands are extended in offers of help. Distribution of the annuals brings countless exclamations of excitement. Classrooms, halls, steps, and even the lawn are filled until the last day of school with students intently writing. Busy pens seek to recall all the wonderful experiences of the past year.

When the close of the year grew near, the 306 members of the senior class not only anticipated but also regretted the day that would end their three years at Central. On May 25, the girls donned their traditional white robes and the boys their blue robes to attend baccalaureate services. A week before graduation a preview assembly offered another occasion for use of the robes. Tickets for commencement exercises were given to the seniors in any quantity desired. On June 1, Mr. Hanson for the first time as principal gave out diplomas to the proud group of 1958 graduates assembled, as during baccalaureate services, in the Mary E. Sawyer Auditorium.

Final Gestures

To assure that each graduate will receive his own, Pat carefully arranges the diplomas in alphabetical order.

Dave
elt has been nice having you in Biology and English this year. I hope that you will get a lot better in the tests in english and Biology.
Good Luck

Dave -

Suicide of Honor Boom we didnt get in any of the same classes together. Maybe next year.
You worked hard in track this year and you'll probably get a letter next year. Best of Luck its a real swell guy.

Slats

Dave,

We sure had a lot of fun in Band this year huh! If we both practise real hard this summer maybe next year you'll be 1st baritone and I'll be 1st trombone (maybe). Anyway we can try. At least 2nd trombone, we hope). Don't do anything I wouldn't do (maybe). Anyway we can try. this summer, and (practise)!!! Best of luck in your last 2 years at Central

Dave
Gerta '58

Dave,

I have really enjoyed having Y.H.P. and Geometry with you. I have fun this summer and I hope to see you next Fall. Good luck to a smart boy.

Karla Karlson '58.

Dave

I hope I can walk home with you at noon.

Dave
Pat

Dave,
It has been nice knowing you. I hope to see you this summer. Good next year.

Butch.
Ziegler

Dave,
I will miss you and your papers in fifth hour Biology. Well have fun this summer and run this next year. good luck

Don

Dave.
I hope to see you again next year. Have fun,
Lyle Welke

Dave,
Hope to see you
in some of my classes again next year. Have fun this summer.
Lots of Luck,
Sue Wolff
